Welcome to Versailles...

The 59th meeting of The International Association of Forensic Toxicologists (TIAFT) will be held in Versailles from 5 to 8 of September 2022. This congress will be joint with the 30th annual meeting of the French Society of Analytical Toxicology (SFTA, Société Française de Toxicologie Analytique)

The royal city of Versailles is born mainly of the will and the imagination of Louis XIV and has held the rank of cultural capital of Europe. Every year, 15,000,000 people visit the Palace, Parks, or Gardens of Versailles, making it one of the world's most famous tourist sites.

The Congress program will focus on Performance-enhancing and recreational drugs and behavior alteration. Other forensic toxicology issues that will be discussed at this meeting include postmortem toxicology, especially death at therapeutic concentration, pediatric toxicology as well as recent trends in screening procedures.

This TIAFT meeting in Versailles also serves as a venue for sponsorship and exhibition, as well as an opportunity to engage with well-known worldwide scientists and professionals from academia and a range of organizations. The following pages explain several sponsorship opportunities with attractive exhibition packages. This will allow you to optimize your company's involvement, enhance exposure of your goods and processes, and help you to connect and interact with TIAFT attendees.

So, we hope to see you at our ROYAL MEETING

CONGRESS VENUE

VERSAILLES CONVENTIONS CENTER (CCV) or « PALAIS des CONGRÈS »

Designed by architect Pierre-Edouard Lambert, The CCV blends harmoniously with its royal surroundings. The CCV is just steps away from the main courtyard of the Château de Versailles (1 min). Behind its classically-designed façade is a cylindrical structure built around a central Amphitheatre. The CCV is the first convention center ever built in France and it is a listed historical monument

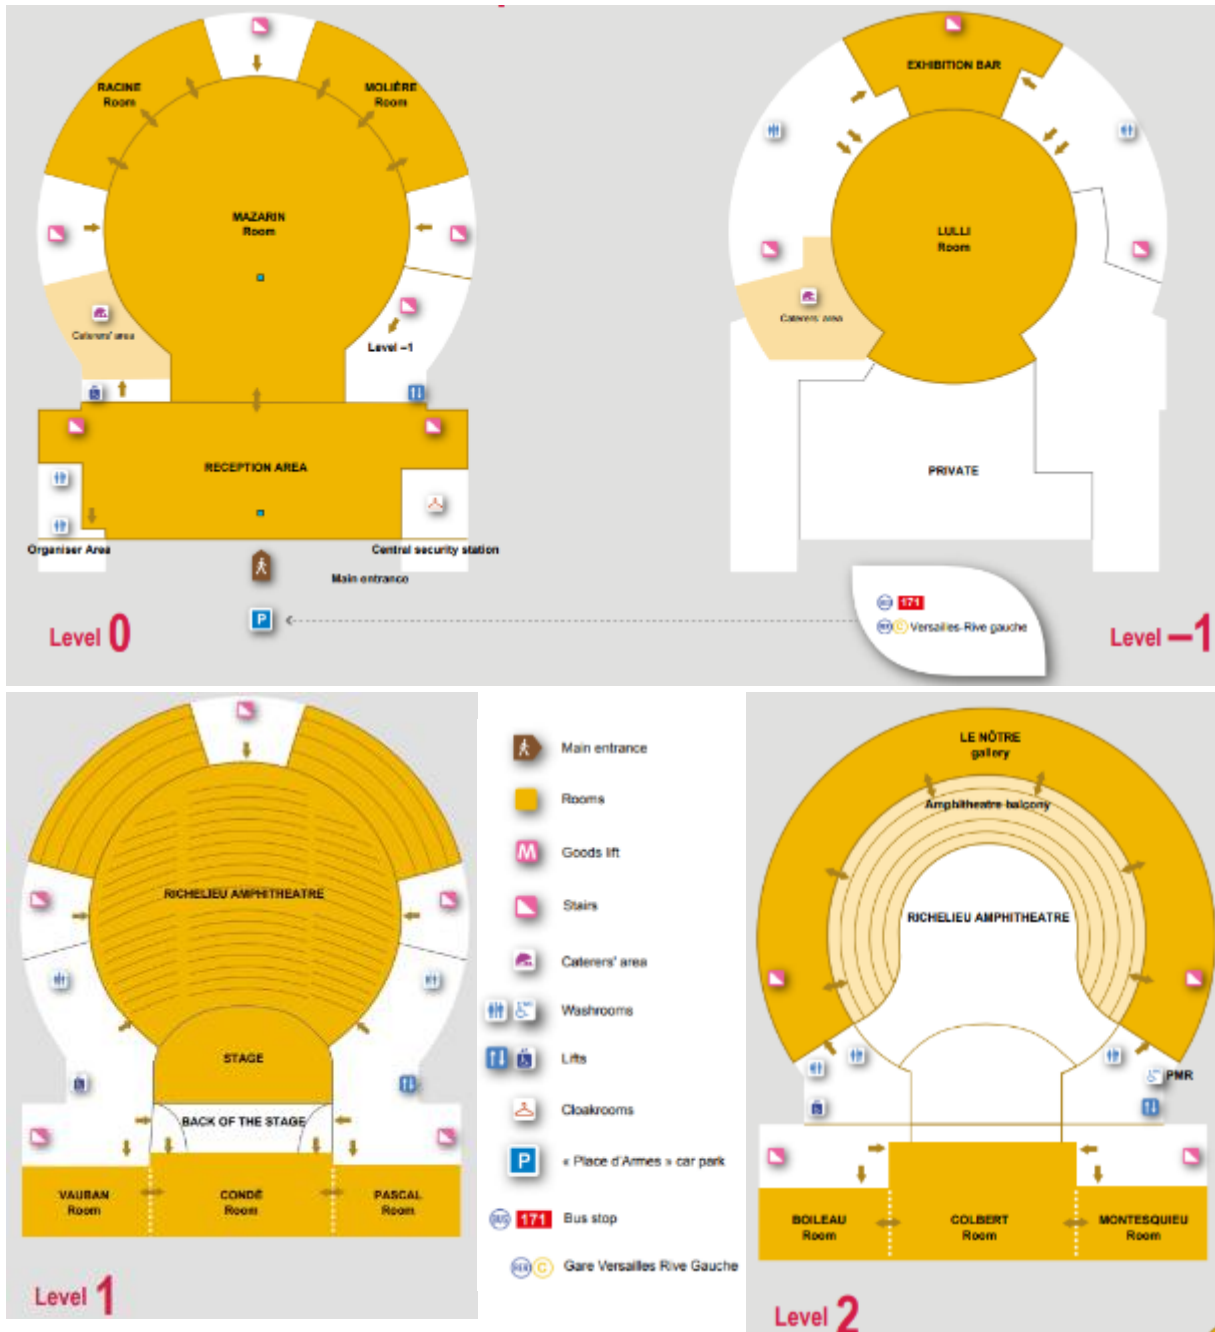

The CCV was completely refurbished in 2020, much to the delight of our visitors.
